Overview

Thank you for taking the time to complete this survey.

Before starting the online survey, you may find it useful to first print the PDF of this survey questionnaire and use it when gathering the required information. This PDF can be accessed and printed from the Florida Legislature’s Office of Economic and Demographic Research (EDR) website via the following link:

With the exception of municipal governments having annual revenues or expenditures less than $250,000, counties and municipalities are required by law to report the economic development incentives granted during the previous fiscal year if the amount of incentives granted in total are in excess of $25,000 during that year.

Prior to this year, counties and municipalities were instructed to exclude the economic development incentives granted by any applicable Community Redevelopment Agency (CRA) from their representative survey response. However, new this year, CRAs are being asked to complete a separate survey response.

The fiscal year referred to in this survey is the Local Fiscal Year that ended September 30, 2017.

Please note that the survey response deadline has been extended to Wednesday, February 28, 2018.

Once you have submitted the survey, you will not be able to edit your responses. If you find
Additional Reporting Requirements

In addition to responding to this survey, additional reporting requirements are required by law.

Section 125.045(4), Florida Statutes, specifies that a contract between a county's governing body (or other entity engaged in economic development activities on behalf of the county) and an economic development agency (EDO) must require the EDO receiving county funds to submit a report to the county detailing how the county funds were spent and the results of the efforts on behalf of the county.

Section 166.021(8)(d), Florida Statutes, specifies that a contract between a municipality's governing body (or other entity engaged in economic development activities on behalf of the municipality) and an EDO must require the EDO receiving funds to submit a report to the municipality detailing how the funds were spent and the results of the efforts on behalf of the municipality.

By January 15th of each year, the county or municipality must submit a copy of the report to EDR and post the report on their website.

EDR has recommended items of interest that should be included in the EDO's report. These, along with other pertinent information, can be found on EDR's website via the following link:

http://edr.state.fl.us/Content/local-government/economic-development-incentives/index.cfm

The local government should submit a copy of the report to EDR at the following address:

Survey Introduction

Sections 125.045(5) and 166.021(8)(e), Florida Statutes, impose the economic development reporting requirements that will be satisfied by the submission of this survey questionnaire. For purposes of this questionnaire, economic development incentives granted by the local entity (county, municipality, or CRA) should be categorized into one of the following classes:

1. DIRECT FINANCIAL INCENTIVES - Direct financial incentives of monetary assistance provided to a business include, but are not limited to, grants, loans, equity investments, loan insurance and guarantees, and training subsidies. CRA's should only report economic development incentives to businesses funded through Tax Increment Financing (TIF).

2. INDIRECT INCENTIVES - Indirect incentives in the form of grants and loans provided to businesses and community organizations that provide support to businesses or promote business investment or development. Incentives appropriated to Industrial Development Authorities (IDAs), Community Development Districts (CDDs) and Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs) from the county or municipality should be reported as indirect financial incentives. If the county or municipality appropriates any non TIF-generated funds to CRAs, such funds should be reported as indirect financial incentives.

3. FEE OR TAX-BASED INCENTIVES - Fee-based or tax-based incentives, including, but not limited to, credits, refunds, and exemptions.

4. BELOW MARKET RATE INCENTIVES - Below-market rate leases or deeds for real property.

EDR will report to the President of the Senate, the Speaker of the House, and the Department of Economic Opportunity the results of this survey responses including summarizing the responses by incentive type. The completed report will be posted to EDR's website via the

Qualifying Question

* 3. During Fiscal Year 2016-17, did the county, municipality, or CRA give businesses, either directly or indirectly, economic development incentives totaling more than $25,000?

☑ Yes
☐ No
What qualifies as direct financial incentives?

We will now ask you about the types of incentives granted to businesses during the previous fiscal year. The first category is direct financial incentives.

Direct financial incentives are provided through grants, loans, equity investments, loan insurance and guarantees. These programs can address business financing needs, workforce training, market development, modernization, and technology commercialization activities.

Direct financial incentives also include local financial support funding matches required by state incentives negotiated by the Florida Department of Economic Opportunity such as the Qualified Target Industry Tax Refund (QTI)* or the Quick Action Closing Fund (QACF). Also included are direct incentives offered in combination with other local governments.

Direct financial incentives are generally project-specific, contingent on pre-award review and evaluation, and typically performance-based.

Do not include payments or benefits to businesses from Industrial Development Authorities (IDAs), or any state or federal funds (i.e., CDBG funds, etc.), which the local government has the discretion to distribute. CRA’s should only report economic development incentives to businesses funded through Tax Increment Financing (TIF).

* While the Qualified Target Industry Tax Refund is contingent on the business paying certain state or local taxes, the incentive itself is a grant award.

Have you granted indirect financial incentives?

We will now ask you about indirect financial incentives.

Indirect financial incentives include grants and loans to local government entities, nonprofits, and organizations to support business investment or development. The recipients include communities, financial institutions, universities, community colleges, training providers, venture capital investors, and business incubators. Funds are provided to the intermediaries in the form of grants, loans, and loan guarantees.

Indirect financial incentives are generally contingent on pre-award review and evaluation, and such incentives may be performance-based.

General payments to Small Business Development Centers (SBDCs) do not qualify as an Indirect Financial Incentive, unless payments are specifically for training of an expanding or relocating business, or part of a specific economic development initiative. Economic Development Incentives appropriated to Industrial Development Authorities (IDAs) and Community Development Districts (CDDs) from the county or municipality should be reported here under indirect financial incentives.

While many jurisdictions do business marketing and recruitment "in-house," some contract with a private Economic Development Organization (EDO), or contribute dues to a regional EDO which provides such services to local governments across a defined region. Some EDOs also develop incentive agreements, subject to local government approval. These funds should be identified.

If the county or municipality appropriates any non TIF-generated funds to CRAs, such funds should be reported as indirect financial incentives.

Have you granted fee or tax-based economic development incentives?

We will now ask if you have granted fee or tax-based economic development incentives.

Tax-based incentives use the tax code as the source of direct or indirect subsidy to qualified businesses. In most instances, tax-based incentives are awarded upon verification of eligibility and may not be subject to pre-award review and evaluation like direct incentives.

Florida’s counties and municipalities and their CRA’s as a unit within are limited in their ability to offer tax-based incentives, either for economic development or for other purposes. With the exception of ad valorem taxes, Florida’s Constitution preempts all taxing authority to the state. Local taxes authorized by the constitution or by the Legislature may only be levied pursuant to the specifications in the governing statute. Unless specifically authorized, relief from these local taxes (credits, refunds, or exemptions) may not be granted.

Of all the local taxes, current law authorizes counties or municipalities to offer relief (specifically, exemptions) for only the following:

- The Economic Development Ad Valorem Tax Exemption for new or expanding businesses that meet certain job-creation and other requirements, pursuant to s. 196.1995, F.S.;

- The Local Business Tax (formerly known as the Occupational License Tax) exemption of 50 percent for "any business, profession or occupation" with a permanent business location in an Enterprise Zone, pursuant to s. 205.054, F.S.; and

- The Public Service Tax (also known as the Municipal Utility Tax) exemption for residential and agricultural uses, public bodies, nonprofit corporations, industrial consumers, and electrical energy used by qualified businesses located in Enterprise Zones, pursuant to ss. 166.231-.234. F.S.
