Discussion of Investment Applications

CSAB Members had an open discussion on the review process and scoring. Programs (7) reviewed are listed below. Concerns or questions voiced are noted.

A discussion regarding the process of scoring took place with the final consensus being each individual member needs to be consistent in how they rate across all applications reviewed rather than the board determining how scoring should be completed.

CSAB members were encouraged to review their scores. If scored numbers are outside of the scoring range or if they are missing members need to edit accordingly. If a member submitted their scores for a review and it requires an edit they may inform Kristi via email, if it’s prior to the final due date the review can be sent back for editing and resubmission but members are encouraged to limit these occurrences.

The use of 1) Priority Selection Comparison to Results worksheet to determine if the priority the agency selected and tracks for the results correlate, 2) Decision-Making Guide to determine if a request for an increase in investment meets the criteria to be considered for an increase will be use throughout the investment review process.

- Big Brothers/Big Sisters – One to One Mentoring: Objective verification could be better; agency uses a self-created assessment completed by staff as the objective verification as evidence for clients achieving the result (noted by another member these self-created assessments are common). Members would like to see additional objective verification to demonstrate the agency is effective beyond staff subjective opinion. Agency utilized national statistics; members would like to see local statistics. Members questioned what the agency means in their results statement when they say their clients are “at risk of negative social and behavioral development” and clarification for what behaviors qualify as being negative.
  - Agency claimed priority: At-risk youth demonstrate age-appropriate social and behavioral skills and result. CSAB will consider as a priority by member consensus.

- Educational Consultants Consortium, Iron Sharpening Iron: The agency’s budget was discussed, focusing on how the income changes impacts the finances for the program. The result statement focuses on academics rather than age-appropriate social and behavioral skills as noted in the priority. The number achieving was discussed because 100 of 150 served would reach the result, some saw this as good while others thought it was low. Members would like the agency to work on wording of their result statement to reflect what their stated priority is so that it is clear the objective is met through the result.
  - Agency claimed priority: At-risk youth demonstrate age-appropriate social and behavioral skills and result. CSAB will consider as a priority by member consensus.
  - Agency requested an increase in investment and reasoning for request. CSAB utilized Decision Making Guide-Request for Increased Investment. CSAB unanimously determined that they will consider for increase.

- Healthy Teens Coalition – Teen Health Educators: CSAB member Charlie Kennedy disclosed that his wife is on the Board of Directors for Healthy Teens yet shared what the program does. The requirements for clients to participate does not require being “at-risk”. Public comments from program staff addressed this concern. Result 2 is vague, it is unclear how the agency will track this result, who tracks the peers that the Teen Health Educators present to. Members would like the agency to utilize community resources for free training opportunities.
  - Agency claimed priority: At-risk youth demonstrate age-appropriate social and behavioral skills and result. CSAB will consider as a priority by member consensus.
  - Agency requested an increase in investment and reasoning for request. CSAB utilized Decision Making Guide-Request for Increased Investment. CSAB determined that they will not consider for increase.

- Hope Family Services – Children’s Counseling: Concern about how to make a home safe for a child when it is not safe for the parents. The child becomes a primary focus of treatment when they experience domestic violence or are the victim of domestic violence. Members were pleased with the Agency’s progress in their performance improvement process from last year’s application to this year. Agency worked to improve performance by compressing the process to create a measurement for the milestones.
  - Agency is not claiming priority.

George VanBuren exited @ 4:31 pm

- Insight Counseling - SOAR: Concern about leadership sustainability with the acting CEO continuing as a Clinical Consultant while there is no Program Director. The agency continues to search for a Program Director. Discussion on the application and priority listing. Agency claimed no priority, however, the CSAB feels the agency does have a priority and that the results speak to the priority of “At-risk youth demonstrate age appropriate social and behavioral skills”. Motion: change the priority from none to priority of “At-risk youth demonstrate age appropriate social and behavioral skills”; Action: Approve, Moved by Kim Kutch, Seconded by Hon. Scott Brownell, Vote: Motion passed (Summary: Yes = 11, No = 0, Abstain = 0). (In Person) Debbie Tapp, Connie Shingledecker, Hon, Scott Brownell, Amy Diss, Charlie Kennedy, Kimberly Hutch, Jannon Pierce, Rita Smith, and Xtavia Bailey; (Virtually) Kelly Hunt and Gail Wynne.

- Pace Center for Girls – Teenage Pregnancy Prevention: Clarified reason for the 90-day commitment and tracking results in the pregnancy prevention program. The Florida state office of Pace Center for Girls has expanded this program into Georgia. Program runs in a stand-alone school that does not have the resources that other schools in the district do. Clarification that the first milestone measures the clients at the 90-day mark after enrolling in the program, yet the program is ongoing.
  - Agency is not claiming priority.
  - Agency requested an increase in investment and reasoning for request. CSAB utilized Decision Making Guide-Request for Increased Investment. CSAB determined that they will not consider for increase.

- Replay Outreach – Success4Life Training & Mentoring: Members voiced budget concerns and quality of the application completion. Agency made contradictory statements about not being dependent on other entities yet state their interactions and coordination with other agencies on that portion of application. There were questions about the number of children they are serving for the result and would like to see more children served the coming contract year.
