Although they have received investment through Manatee County's Children's Services millage, the amount of funding and services they are proposing to provide are not the same as what was provided in the current funding year (FY23). This was not mentioned during the meeting, but should be noted and will be mentioned in old/new business next week. members should keep this in mind as they finish up submissions for Batch 8.

Debbie Tapp encouraged members to make notes as the meetings progress so members can provide recommendations for the process next year during the June 2023 CSAB meeting.

Public Comment

Agencies who verbally provided a public comment during the meeting were:

(In Person): Char Young, Sean Gringas, Emma Vallentire, Andrew Colbe, Reggie Bellamy;
(Virtually): Melissa Washington.

- Char Young, Hope Family Services: Thanked the CSAB members for all they do. Spoke on the attempts to link with the schools to allow staff back into the school with limited progress. Discussed the dedicated children's counseling center. The building is ready with anticipated opening date in October 2023 to provide more services in a child-friendly environment.
- Sean Gringas, Centerstone of Florida: Spoke on the programs reviewed during today's meeting. Shared the reasoning behind the increase in funding request is for staffing as a means of remaining competitive in wages. Staff turnover rates are a challenge across all programs. Expanded on the funding match information from the funding application for the two programs reviewed during today's meeting, "I wanted to address was the match Calculation both of our programs. Mental health evaluation, as well of sexual assault. advocacy, and therapy receive State grant funds. and the State Grant funds require 25% match from other sources. Non-federal resources. We utilize the funding from the county to meet those match requirements. We received our match requirement from Central Florida behavioral health as an aggregate number across all of our programs. So in in our response we show 5.5 million match dollars used last year. We, that is what the aggregate amount was. We don't have a specific sexual assault value or specific mental health evaluation number it. It gets all rolled into one."
- Emma Valentine, Centerstone of Florida: Reviewed the outcomes from last year and proposed funding year.
- Kelly French, Salvation Army: Thanked the CSAB members for all their hard work to review all the funding applications and the service to the community. Spoke on the expansion and the City of Bradenton permitting is under review and the project is on hold until the City of Bradenton has made their determination.
- Andrew Coble, Family Resources: Spoke on the outcomes and data tracking and the history of the agreements being in one result and program sought to pull apart into two results. Pertaining to the outcome tracking and the truancy task force and limited staffing.
- Reggie Bellamy, Palmetto Youth Center: Thanked the CSAB members and Children's Services staff for their hard work and dedication. Spoke on the essential services Palmetto Youth Center provides to the community across its numerous programs.

Reviewed the grassroots efforts and other services the agency provides outside of the funded programs and the hopes this will increase clients in the funded programs.

- Melissa Washington, Palmetto Youth Center: Spoke on the enrollment numbers and how the agency hosts other programs to increase the number of clients registered to participate in the Children's Services Millage funding programs. Reviewed how the agency is seeking to enrich the daily lives of the clients and improvements in reading, behaviors, healthy eating, etc. Understands the program achieving the target number of clients served and served for the results. Thanked the CSAB members for their services and how it provides programs with the ability to impact the youth across the county.
